MONEY, STOCKS AND GRAIN

Traders Not Inclined to Sell and Some Buoyancy Soon Marked the Deals.

The Remarkably Bad Bank Statement, However, Proved a Dampener to Large Risks-Indianapolis Cereals Active and Higher.

THE BOND MARKET.

Railway Issues Were Irregular, with Sales That Reached Only $522,000. At New York, Saturday, money on call was nominally 8 per cent. Prime mercantile paper, 8@12 per cent. Sterling exchange was dull, with actual business in bankers' bills at $4.79 2 @4.804 for sixty days, and $4.88 4 04.84 for demand.

Silver certificates were neglected. Bar silver closed at 7240 per onnce; Mexican dollars at 594c. At London bar silver slosed at 334d. The New York stock market opened eas-1er Saturday, first, because the pace set Friday was too hot to last, and, secondly, because the room traders figured that the Walker failure at Chicago ought to have an adverse influence. Again traders were all looking for a bad bank statement which they thought would create a more bearish feeling. Consequently they hammered sway at prices and succeeded in forcing Sugar down 2's, to 72%; Lake Shore 14, to 114: Unicago Gas 14, to 51; Louisville & Nashville 14, to 55% and the general list any where from 1/2 to 11/2 per cent. London, however, bought moderately, and when the traders found that their hammerstock in important amounts they made strenuous efforts to cover, and many of them turned around to the bull side. The scarcity of stocks when a demand of fair proportions set in was again demonstrated, New York Central, Lackawanns and Louville & Nashville commanded 4 per cent. premium, Burlington & Quincy 1/16@18 Sugar 1/16. When it fairly dawned upon the traders that they had miscalculated the effect of the Chicago failures there was a rush to change positions on the marhet. Under the influence of the purchases made prices bounded up 1/2 to 4/8 per cent. Sugar led the market with sales. Chicago Gas, General Electric, Lou-isville & Nashville, Burlington & Quincy. Atchison, Missouri Pacific, Northern Pacific preferred and Western Union all sold at the highest point of the week. The feeling was buoyant for a time. The bank statement, which was phenomenal in many respects, checked the upward movement, and prices receded to 84, the latter in American Sugar, but at the close the whole list was firm again. The bank statement reflected the enormous shipments of ourrency to the interior, and the hoarding which is going on. The loss in cash to the banks last week was $12,024,100. Loans were contracted $2,231,000 and deposits decreased $9,231,900.

The bond market was very irregular. The sales were $522,000. Burlington & Quincy convertibles rose 34, to 77; General Electric debenture fives 20, to 72; Chicago & Eastern Illinois firsts fell 34, to 108; Chicago & Erie firsts 2, to 87; Mobile & Ohio fours'2, to 48. Government bonds were firm. State bonds were duil Closing quotations were:

LOCAL GRAIN AND PRODUCE.

Trade of the Week Disappointing, with Few Finetuations Except in Grain,

The trade of the week ending Aug. 5 was not up to what had been anticipated. In all departments duliness ruled. There were few important changes in prices. Sugars and coffees are both firmer than a week ago. Coming to Commission row the bottom is out of prices on tomatoes and cantelopes. One commission house let 350 hoxes of tomatoes be sold for the freight charges. Home-grown Bartlett pears are on the market at $5 per barrel, common, and $7 for choice fruit. Poultry and eggs rule easy at quotations, receipts of young chickens being large. Provisions, pork excepted, ruled steady through the week. Hide, leather and bardware markets are all quiet and doing owing to the drought, which is becoming quite serious in this section. The local grain market is quite active. Not for many months has the attendance on Change been so large. Wheat, which, on Monday, dropped to 50c, yesterday would bring 54c, and several grades of corn were up be. Track bids ruled as follows: Wheat-No. 2 red, 54c; No. 3 red, 50c; re-prices easy. In the seed market little is

THE BLUFF WILL NOT DO. Why Republicans Have a Right to Tell the Kansas City Journal. Nothing will be gained to the purposes of Mr. Cleveland and his coconspirators against American prosperity by the effort which is now to be made to stop the talk about the stagnation of the industries of the country. The mask has been torn off and it is plain to be seen where the responsibility for the existing depression lies. It will not avail to say that the Republican press is engaged in a calamity cry. It is necessary that the country should be made to understand that it is the avowed purposes of the party of the administration that have brought general distrust into all branches of business. If it is possible to create a public sentiment so strong that these purposes shall be held in abeyance or abandoned entirely, then it

The Republican party has never been a calamity party. It has always been guided by patriotism. No call has ever been made in vain for an exercise of .ts power for the good of the country. The membership of the party probably embraces ten to one more sufferers from the effects of the Cleveland policy of destruction than that of the party of free trade and panper labor. How many who are concerned in the iron-ore market, which has already fallen off one-half in its handlings, are willing that the facts shall be suppressed in order to aid the Cleveland conspiracy? Apply the same question in regard to the manufacture of iron, and to every other industry that felt the calamity of the election of last fall long before there was even a flurry in the stock gambling circles of Wallstreet on account of the encroachment upon Mr. Cleveland's gold reserve. is it right that these, with their hundreds of thousands of wage earners, should keep silence in order that a conspiracy with free-trade England should be carried out without a hitch? Everybody knows that a calamity has befallen the country, but that calamity cannot be remedied while hidden and unknown. They tell us that the trouble comes from a lack of money with which to do the business of the country-or that we have an insufficient amount of money of the right kind. It is the same kind of money, and in the same amount that we bad under Republican rule, when the country was in the midst of the most glorious era of prosperity that it has ever enjoyed. The only changes made have been in the prospect that is before us, and those changes promise a restriction of good money-a substitution of wildoat State banks for the silver with which everybody was getting along very well under Republican control. The calamity bluff will not do. The people are fast coming to a realizing sense of the true source of all the trouble, and unless the coming Congress shall take good note of the change in public sentiment and govern itself accordingly there will be little use for a coroner's services over the corpse of Mr. Cleveland's party. There will not be enough of it left to sit upon.

Prohibition in England.

Sir Wilfrid Lawson, in North American Review. There is a virtual unanimity among the statesmen of all parties that the places licensed for the sale of drink are too numerous. The Conservative statesmen, who make this avowal, also declare that as they have failed in providing for their diminution by alloting public money for the benefit of those houses which may be disestablished, nothing more is likely to be done by politicians to promote temperance "for the next twenty years." The Liberal statesmen who formerly succeeded in their resistance to the Conservative scheme above mentioned, it must be assumed, have some pian ready for the reduction in the number of drinking houses, inasmuch as they have joined with the lory statesmen in denouncing the superabundance of such places. The Prohibition party, meanwhile, sticks to its simple, straightforward demand, that it should be placed in the "option" of dwellers in specified localities to protect themselves. The Prohibitionists only ask for what are called, in reference to Africa, "uncontaminated zones," that is, districts without liquor shops, where local public opinion clearly demands that such shall be the case.

Mr. Gladstone Angry.

How Mr. Gladstone let his "angry passions" rise on a recent occasion in the House of Commone is thus reported by an eve witness, who writes to the Westminster

"I have never, in the course of many years' experience of the House, seen Mr. Gladstone so angry as he was last night, when he replied to Mr. Balfour. After proclaiming himself 'supremely indifferent' to whether Mr. Balfour attacked the government or not, he then showed himself profoundly moved by Mr. Balfour's little jibe that they were not worth attacking. 'Not worth attacking,' he shouted: 'what were you?' And he grew pale and brandished both arms, while he denounced the phariseeism of the people who had declared that judicial rents should never, never be revised, and had yet done it within three months of their declaration. The point might have been made in two minutes, but it took fifteen, and was expanded with a wealth of dennnciation and gesture which was really frightening. And all the while the question was merely 'which government was worth attacking."

Hoosters Libeled.

The captain of the steamer Soo City. running to Michigan City, Ind., is a bit of a philosopher in hie way. He brings hundreds of passengers from that place to Chicago to see the fair. His vessel was crowded yesterday, when a man came up to him. "Say, Cap'n," said he, "can I go upstairs?"

meaning the upper deck. "Yes," replied the captain. Then, turning to a friend, he remarked: "Now you'll see every blamed one of 'em go upstairs, as they oull it. These are all Hoosiers, and where one goes the others follow, just like Sure enough, what the captain said happened. No sooner was the man seen mounting to the upper deck than one after another crowded after him until it was black "You kin always tell a Hoosier," said the captain. "They go in flocks, like sheep." The First World's Fair.

Chicago I ter Ocean. Adam was the proprietor of "the first world's fair" when he "went out from Eden." The fair have been growing fairer and more beautiful ever since.

TRADING AT CHICAGO.

No United Support to Provisions and Prices Practically Unchanged.

CHICAGO, Aug. 5.-It was quiet as a Sunday school on 'Change to-day. Wheat advanced a cent nevertheless. The opening was from 18@4c higher than yesterday's closing, and, with some fluctuations, advanced 3 @ 8c, then held steady and closed at the opening prices. The New York bank statement caused some little reaction, the market selling off early to the inside figures, but there was not much wheat for eale. The exports of wheat and flour from both coasts were about 1,600,000 bushels larger than the preceding week, and 1,650,000 bushels larger than the corresponding week a year age. Export clearances of wheat and flour from the seaboard were also larger than last week, and the receipts at primary markets showed but little increase. It is estimated that the visible supply will show a small increase, against an increase of 2,089,000 bushels corresponding with a year ago.

In corn mitial trades were at 4 @ % c advance, and the price sold up, reacting %c, changed some, ruled steady and at the close had lost a fraction. The decline near the close was due to reports of rain in some parts of Nebrasks and extending eastward. Business was very light.

The feature in oats was the light offerings, which made it easy for traders to advance prices 4@3sc, but the close was 4s@ %c from the top. August and cash were changed at 'so premium for the cash, one lot of 50,000 bushels changing hands. for the first time in several days there was no apparent concerted support to provisions. Some long stuff dribbling out upon the market caused marked weakness for a time. Compared with last night, at the close, however, pork is unchanged, and lard and ribs only .10c off. Freights were dull, with light offerings of vessel room at unchanged rates, 14c for wheat and le for corn to Buffalo, and 340 for wheat and 8c for corn to Kingston. Estimated receipts for Monday are: Wheat, 216 cars; corn, 340 cars; oats, 247

SUNDAY

The Journal's price for daily is only 15 cents a week, and it has a very wide circulation, reaching a large number of people hitherto unable to afford the luxury of a first-class daily paper. Reports from agents and subscribers indicate a continued increase, and that what used to be regarded as a luxury has become a necessity. The new readers not only remain, but they are constantly increasing.

It is the purpose of the Journal to make itself even more indispensable to its patrons, new and old, and to still further widen its field. To this end it will not only endeavor to maintain the characteristics which have established its reputation as by far the best newspaper in Indiana, but will add such new features and improvements from time to time as are in accord with journalistic progress and that may tend to the advantage of its readers. It will, for example, give increased attention to State and local interests. What Indianians want is a paper in which Indiana affairs are given especial prominence and importance. This want the Journal has always supplied as no other paper published outside or inside the State is able to do; but the rapidly developing industries and business and social enterprises of the community call for additional consideration and space, With this in view its corps of correspondents has been increased until it has a representative in nearly every town in the State Special traveling correspondents will visit the news centers of the State at frequent intervals, thus insuring the "write up" of every important event or matter of general interest. Being published in the geographical center of Indiana the Journal is afforded unusual facilities for securing news promptly, and, what is of greater consequence, is able to reach its subscribers without delay. The running of morning trains from Indianapolis is very favorable to the early distribution of papers sent by mail or express, and in most towns within a radius of a hundred miles Journals are delivered as early as in the city where they are printed. In the more remote counties there is but little loss of time in transportation. The Journal is the paper for Indianians and particularly for Indiana Republicans. The change of administration involves the settlement of political problems likely to be of the most direct personal concern to every farmer and business man in the State. All such matters will be set forth in detail, the Journal's Washington correspondent being instructed to give especial attention to everything having a possible bearing on Indiana interests. But though the Journal is Republican in politics it is non-partisan in the publication of news. Its constantendeavor is to secure facts unbiased by prejudice and to make its columns trustworthy records of each day's happenings.

A large editorial force supplements the work of the press associations and the correspondents, and furnishes careful supervision for each department. The Sunday Journal has a well-established literary character, superior to that of any Western paper. It is not defaced by "plate matter" nor filled with a heterogeneous mass of syndicate literature, but its contributions and miscellany are chosen with a view to their special fitness and adaptability to the tastes of the readers. The reading matter in any given number of the Sunday Journal is equal in quantity and is not inferior in quality to that found in the leading magazines. As an educational adjunct and a source of entertainment the Sunday Journal is indispensable in every well-regulated family. The Weekly Journal, at $1 per year, contains more reading matter than can be obtained for the money in any other shape. It is carefully edited and offers the news of the week in condensed shape and a variety of miscellany, agricultural and household literature that render it one of the best investments that any family can make. Try it and see. It has a large circulation in this and other States and agents find it an easy matter to secure large lists of subscribers. Special inducements offered to agents.
